Investment Mix

Commentary

The Hunter Balanced Fund slightly underperformed its benchmark in May, returning 1.03% after fees and before tax versus the benchmark return of 1.15%.

Despite apparent risks associated with the COVID-19 Delta variant, Investment markets continued their upward trend over the month of July as they were ably supported by a solid earnings reporting season in the United States.

Global equities, as measured by the MSCI ACWI, returned 0.8% for the month and 0.7% when hedged back to the New Zealand dollar.

New Zealand's equity market ran counter to this strength as the S&P/NZX 50 Gross Index (including Imputation Credits) fell 0.5% over the month. This despite continuing signs of a strengthening economy as evidenced by the unemployment rate falling to 4.0%.

This strength and a higher than expected June quarter CPI number (3.3% year on year, versus expectations of 2.7%), saw New Zealand's Reserve Bank signal interest rate hikes sooner than previously expected, causing interest rates to rise at the end of the month. Despite this, the NZ bond market still rose 0.7% over the month.

Global bond markets rallied hard, enjoying their strongest monthly return since March 2020, as the Barclays Global Aggregate Index Hedged to NZD finished up 1.3%.

The Fund's strategy is to provide a well diversified portfolio targeting mid-range long-run returns by reweighting back to the Fund's benchmark/target investment mix within a cost-effective and tax appropriate investment structure.
